WEST VIRGINIA. Both Sides Claim the State-Good Republican Outlook. WHEELING (W. Va.), November 4th. There never was a campaign in West Virginia as closely and hotly contested as that now drawing to a close, and, while there is much talk on both sides of "boodle" and "fraud," it is conceded by all in private that the result will be on its merits. It is hard to form a reliable, intelligent opinion of the outcome. West Virginia has many sheep-growers, salt wells, coal and iron sheep-growers, salt wells, coal and iron mines and timber tracts, and the cry on free raw material has a tendency to make Republican votes. There is a tendency to make York City and Brooklyn to come the cry of York City and Brooklyn to come the cry of the coal and will require 70,000 plurality in New York City and Brooklyn to come the cry of the cry Republican votes. There is considerable interest also in Wheeling and vicinity in glass, pottery, iron, steel and wool factories.

glass, pottery, iron, steel and wool factories. These are largely opposed to the Mills bill. The party lines have been drawn closely, and the changes expected, if they occur, are not openly announced.

The Democratic poll of the State by counties gives them a plurality of 1,500 out of a largely increased yote, while the Republican poll—made with much more them publican poll-made with much more than ordinary care, most of the quiet voters havng been seen personally-seems to give Harrison 3,000 plurality.

General Goff, the Republican nominee for Governor has made a wonderful canvass, and nobody ever stirred up the peo-ple as he has. He carried the First Con-gressional District six years ago by 1,800 majority, when two years before it gave 1,300 Democratic, and it is hoped that he can revolutionize the State.

Besides this, the ratio of r West Virginia since 1876, if carried on without other influences affecting the vote, would make the State Republican this year by 489 plurality. The situation is so interesting that nearly every great orator on both sides has been in the State a portion of the time. The Democrats hope to give the electoral vote to Cleveland and possibly save all the State ticket, but they privately concede the Governor and Legislature to the Republicans, and Senator Kenna's suc-Beaver Jackets $ 7 00 cessor is expected on all sides to be a Re-Much depends on the quiet vote, which cannot be estimated, so that there may be a grand swell for the Republicans, or a in the words, "Nobody knows." THE DEMOCRATIC PARADE. NEW YORK, November 4th .- Forty to fifty thousand torch-bearers paraded before Governor Hill last night, in honor of Cleve-land. The members of the Wine and Spirits Club carried champagne bottles on canes. The Pioneer Club of Pniladelphia and the Hancock Legion of the same city made a fine appearance. The Roach Veterans had a brass cannon, labeled the "Old Roman," which shot off its mouth at frequent intervals as the procession passed. At the Republican National headquarters several Republicans were on the steps burning bandana flags. The paraders groaned and hooted them.

IN BROOKLYN. BROOKLYN, November 4th .- The Democrats concluded their campaign last night with a torchlight parade in which 30,000 persons participated.

BLAINE IN BROOKLYM. NEW YORK, November 4th .- The close of the campaign for the Republicans in Brooklyn last evening was made memorable by the presence of Blaine, who talked on the tariff to at least 20,000 people. Not even the big Democratic parade could be applying the could be a supplying the could be keep enthusiasts away. The ovation tendered him was tremendous. Blaine spoke in three sections of the city. All the big Republicans in the city and a number from New York were present.

bert D. Shaw, formerly United States Con-sul at Manchester, Eng., returned from a business trip to the old country recently and gave the following account of British opinion on the Presidential campaign:

"Cleveland is a hot favorite over there. If Englishmen were to do the voting for us this fall free trade would score a vicstartling. The whole is best summed up in the words, "Nobody knows." The Prohibition amendment to the Constitution will be defeated by from 5,000 to 7,000, largely owing to Republican wrath at the third party.

He said her continued reign is endangering the monarchy.
The prevalent opinion among distinguished divines who attended the synod is that she should leave the throne.

Destroying Young Salmon.

Dr. H. H. Pierson, who has just returned took an inning, and as each was desirous of excelling, the result was very creditable to both. The Republicans massed their forces at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and a most creditable showing followed, the Inter-Ocean's estimate of those in line being 23,000. It took nearly two hours for the procession to pass a given point. The entire route through which the parade passed was lined with people.

France. PARIS, November 4th — News has been received in this city of a terrible accident at the Campaignac coal mine yesterday. It was a horrible affair, and one of the worst in the mining history of the country. It seems that soon after the shifts of miners had been changed, and just before the new men were going to begin work, a great explosion took place, and the result was a terrible loss of life and the maining of many men. Immediately thereafter the scenes in the pit were fearful. The unfor tunate men were piled in heaps, and the cries and groans of the injured as they tried to release themselves from the mass of corpses and debris were heartrending.

To add to the horror of the situation the pit was at once filled with blinding and choking smoke and gas, and it is believed that many of the deaths are attributable to this cause The work of rescue was begun almost immediately, but it was necessarily slow, as the workmen did not make fast headway, owing to debris and smoke. Many of the bodies were mutilated beyond recognition and nearly all of them presented a horrible appearance. It is positively known that eighty men were killed by the explosion. The cause of the explosion has not yet been learned, but t was probably due to gases in the mine.

WHY ENGLAND WANTS AN AMER-ICAN MARKET.

The Democrats have a circular out in which they pretend to sympathize with citizens of English nativity because those "precious rascals," the Republicans, insult FESTIMONY FROM OVER THE WATER. the English born by calling all English workers paupers.

Republicans do nothing of the kind The Democratic circular flatly fies. We have read in no journal, have heard from no lips -- and we examine hundreds of political papers weekly, hear many speakers, read reports of many addressesa word or sentence to justify the charge.

But Republicans do say that the condition of the American worker is vastly better than that of the English worker, and that it is susceptible of proof that in America, under a protective tariff, the laborer is immeasurably better off than the laborer in free-trade England.

Thus: by the carcass beef per eight pounds costs 50 per cent. more in England than it does in America, and mutton over one-third more. As a result the English worker has meat as a luxury and on widely separated occasions; the American worker eats it daily if he chooses.

Up to June 30, 1888, for ten years, 751, 685 persons came to America from England, Scotland and Wales, and 628,242 from Ireland, and not 1,000 went back. Do workmen and workwomen leave conditions in England to fly to those less comfortable and profitable abroad?

England is the highest wage country in the Old World, yet Carroll D. Wright sa for like occupations and living, wages are 77 per cent, higher and living only 18 per cent, higher here than in England. In this dignified and crushing denial General Harrison has met the high estimate the people have held of his character. He had declined, to the very last, to take up a matter purely personal. trusting to the good sense of Americans and his own character to reject libels behind which there is not even the agnouncement of personal responsibility.

But while personal solicitude could not move him to defend himself, the demands of his own party and the common claim of the confidence of his friends exacted from him, in simple gratitude for their repose of confidence, that he lay aside personal modesty and give the lies a blow in the face. He has done so with crushing force. His blade has cleft the wretched libels, and in all the land there dare not arise a man to challenge the General's

A SIGNIFICANT FACT.

The Democratic party went into power in 1884 with the cry of "Reform" on its lips, and the promise to "turn the ascals out," overhaul the books, and straighten things up generally. Now, after four year of inquiry, and with the books wide open they find no false entries, no defalcations. The employes they have turned out were for the balf century preceding 1884. doings. It is notorious that the mail servbers, in its home and general executation lice is poor and miscarriage of matter disgracefully frequent. The fact is, old-tried, skilled postal employes were thrown out to give place to very many incompetents who had voted the Democratic ticket, fought at the polls, and had to be given a pull at the Federal teat, no matter if the public service suffered.

Harrison at the reception of Esmonde and O'Connor, Indianapolis, December 5, 1887.

Not all English papers are free traders. Here is the London Morning Post preaching a whole sermon of truth in a few entences. It says:

According to our friends of the Cobden school american commerce and American manufactures ought to be declining rapidly under the ures ought to be declining rapidly under the "withering influence" of a protective tariff. Instead of this, the statistics to which we refer show that in twenty years the population of the States has increased by 69 per cent., the hay crop has increased 166 per cent. the cotton crop 194 per cent. and the production of pig-iron over 386 per cent. Railway construction to the extent of over 21,000 mites was projected last year, and over 15,000 mites was projected last year, and over 15,000 mites of it were actually constructed in the tweive months. What this means will be better understood when it is pointed out that the total mileage of railroads means will be better inderstood when it is pointed out that the total mileage of railroads existing in the United Kingdom last year was under the 21,000 planned as a single season's addition to the tracks in the United States. New paks were required for nearly 20,000 miles of road, and upward of 3,000,000 tons of steel alls were turned out for the new lines in course it construction. This quantity is three times he entire turnest of rail of all descriptions, ron and steel, of all the mills in the United tates in the year 1850.

The Post then goes on to show how vastly importation into the United States has increased, and how it has drawn imnensely upon the workingmen of Europe And it thus concludes:

But for the serious consequences entailed up on the British working classes, that feel every day more and more the pinch of foreign com-petition, it would be decidedly amusing to note how completely every one of the principles as-sumed by the one-sided free-trade school of this country is negatived by facts and falsified by the experience of common-place business men We are constantly told that protection raises the cost of commodities; that a bostle tariff—as Mr John Bright, said but a few days back in a pubonly a tax which the community pays to sur port the particular industry benefite 1 by it. WHAT THE BLANKET PARTY INTENDS.

If Grover Cleveland is the sincere friend of the workingman, why did he send to England for blankets for the American army to save the beggarly pittance of thirty cents a pair? Even then he could ot have saved that sum except by passing he goods in free, as he did do. There is not on record in the annals of any nation contemptible and unworthy a bit of conomy as this, and Grover Cleveland knows it, for by a subsequent order he has dmitted it, and promised to do better. It a campaign trick, however, and he will evoke it if elected, for the aim he and his party have in view is to break down all tariff barriers protecting the North and West, while retaining those that foster the industries of the South. Under Free Trade England Would "Flood the Yankee Markets" With the Products of Cheap Labor.

THE ENGLISH, OF ALL CLASSES, "WILL GAIN BY THIS."

"So, by All Means, Let Us Pray For the Success of the Free-Trade Policy of Cleveland

Prom the Irish Tribune, Newcastle-on-Tyne June 30, 1888.

The issues in the great Presidential lieve, still desirous of maintaining contest in America are now fairly set, friendly relations with Great Britain, the champions are chosen, and until one or the other is installed in the White House political America will be in a turmoil. Not since the great anti-slavery crusade have there been greater interests at stake than in this fight. It is the question of Free Trade versus Pro-

Americans are talking of Free Trade as a remedy for their overflowing exchequer. They are too rich. They don't know what to do with their money, so they are going to expend it in a Free-Trade toy. There can be no doubt about it, once they take to Free Trade their complaint will soon disappear.

We here are interested in this thing a good deal. Many of our (Irish) people in America are Protectionists. Many are Free Traders. But that is neither here nor there. It affects us in another way. If America opens her ports to the manufactured goods of this country it will give a great impetus to trade, and Irishmen resident in England and Scotland (equally with Englishmen and Scotchmen) will be Yankee markets with cheap clothes, cheap hardware, cheap boots and shoes, and gainers by this. So by all means, let us their votes next November. pray for the success of the Free-Trade policy of Cleveland.

This may not be palatable to Mr. Patrick Ford of the Irish World, who is the able champion of Protection, and to other Irish-Americans. But then, after all, Irishmen here in Great Britain have to think of "number one." If America goe backwards that is her affair. If we gain by it then let her go.

WHERE JACKSON STOOD.

Andrew Jackson, by whom old Democrats swear, believed in the policy advocated by General Harrison to-day. He concluded a letter to Dr. Coleman, of North Carolina, in 1824, in the following

If we omit or refuse to use the gifts which he has extended to us, we deserve not the continuation of his blessing. He has filled our mountains and our plains with minerals—with lead, from and copper—and given us a climate and soil for the growing of hemp and wool. These being the great materials of our national defense, they ought to have extended to them adequate protection, that our manufacturers and laborers may be placed in a fair competition with those of Europe, and that we have within our country a supply of these leading and important articles so essential to war.

I will ask, what is the real situation of the agriculturist? Where has the American farmer a market for his surplus produce? Except for cotton, he has neither a foreign nor a home market. Does not this clearly prove, when there If we omit or refuse to use the gifts which he cotton, he has neither a foreign nor a home market. Does not this clearly prove, when there is no market at home or abroad, that there is too much labor employed in agriculture? Common sense at once points out the remedy. Take from agriculture in the United States 600,000 men, women and children, and you will give at once a market for more breadstuffs than all Europe now furnishes us.

Europe now furnishes us.

In short, sir, we have been too long subject to the policy of British merchants. It is time we should become a little more Americanized, and instead of feeding paupers and laborers of England, feed our own; or else, in a short time, by continuing our present policy, we shall be rendered paupers ourselves.

An English Estimate of Cleveland. [From the Irish World.]

As we write there is before us a copy of the London Standard, in which we find an article on Cleveland's so-called retaliation message that shows how thoroughly the free-trade candidate is understood in England. The Standard says in so many words that the message is pure buncombe, at which England can afford to laugh. "It is as manifest as the sun at noonday," says the Standard, "that President Cleveland, in the tone he has adopted toward Canada, is animated simply by a desire to out-maneuver his political opponents and secure for himself and the party of which he is at present the head a renewal of the Presidential term of power. * * * On hearing that the treaty had been rejected in the United States Senate by a strictly party vote—every Democratic Senator voting in favor of it and every Republican Senator voting against it—they (Englishmen) comforted themselves by the reflection that at least one party in the United States would dojustice if they were able, and that in all probability after the election was overthey would seize an early opportunity of doing it. * * * * We will continue to hope, as the apologetic friends of America say, the President's bark will prove worse than his bit v."

If the pre sent Administration had not given so many and such striking proofs of its pro-British leanings neither the London Standard n or any other English newspaper would ever think of using such language as we have quoted. It is, however, well known in England that whatever Cleveland may sa, * he will not earn England's enmity by adopting a vigorous American policy.

The London Stand vd sums up the English resimate of Clev land when it says: message that shows how thoroughly the free-trade candidate is understood in Eng-

American policy.

(Private.) Beverly, Mass., Sept. 13, 1888.

Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th inst., and beg to say that I fully appreciate the difficulty in which you find yourself in casting your vote. You are probably aware that any political party which openly favored the mother country at the present moment would lose popularity, and that the party in power is fully aware of this fact. The party, however, is, I beand is still as desirous of settling all questions with Canada, which have been unfortunately re-opened since the retraction of the treaty by the Republican majority in the Senate, and by the lude. All allowances must, therefore, regards the Presidential election thus predict the Course which President retaliation, should be be elected; but while upholding the position he has taken, he will manifest a spirit of conciliation in dealing with the question involved in his message. I inclose an article from "The New-York Times" of August 22d, and remain,

> Yours faithfully, L. S. SACKVILLE WEST.

Following is a portion of the article referred to by Mr. West in his last sentence, and which he sent to Mr. Murchison:

There is this further consideration in favo of supporting the Administration on this issue. It will leave the question still open for friendly means of settlement of some kind, while a support of the Senate's position would close all avenues of future negotiations, and bring upon the gainers. We will soon flood the the country the disastrous consequences of re- ceiver for the property, finding in its detaliation, hostility and possible war. It would put an end to all prospect of improving the commercial relations of the United States and other articles that we can manufacture | Canada. This is one of the questions which more cheaply than they. We will be the the people should keep in mind in casting

Sixth—He knows that foreign-made articles, from shoes and pegs of shoes, to locom tives and ships, used in our country, just that much deprives the American worker of the chance to earn bread for his family.

Seventh—He knows that a nation is only a large family, the members of which are bound to help each other by united and reciprocal labor.

LIES ARRIVING.

FLOOD OF LIBELS AGAINST GENERAL HARRISON

Being Poured Into California-Warning Against Outrageous Fraud.

The following dispatch fully explains itself, and ought to warn voters in California against the insidious schemes of the enemies of Harrison and Morton:

INDIANAPOLIS, October 31st.—Chairman Huston, of the Republican Central Committee of Indiana, to-night furnished the press with a copy of the following interesting telegram:

INDIANAPOLIS, October 31, 1888.-To M. H. de Young, Chairman of the Sub-Committee of the National Republican Committee, San Francisco, and Hon. W. H. Dimond, Chairman State Central Committee, California: Apprise the people of the Pacific slope that the Democratic National Committee, abetted by the Indiana Democratic managers, has, during the past three days secretly emitted some 40,000 copies of a President's message, to which you al- spurious and illegal publication styled, The Labor Signal Supplement, containing be made for the Political situation as twenty columns of audacious lies about General Harrison, ingeniously collated by created. It is, however, impossible to a set of local scoundrels for the purpose of assaulting the intelligence of your people, Cleveland may pursue in the matter of and like the infamous Morey-letter forgery, which it surpasses in depravity, it is aimed there is every reasen to believe that, to prejudice and misguide the workingmen of the Pacific States. This supplement was printed last Friday from the press of the Indianapolis Sentinel, the organ of the Democratic party, and the paper that first gave publicity to the vile slander on Mr. Blaine in 1884. The mails and express now en route to California are weighted with this compendium of Democratic campaign lies, the Friday or Saturday. The Labor Signal was once the organ of the local trades unions, but through fraud, its management and control were wrested from the stockholders a few months since by two men who it is claimed sold themselves to the Democratic party. The Superior Court of this county last Saturday appointed a recision that the publishers had diverted the policy and purpose of said paper from the design and purpose contemplated by the stockholders and directors.

Under the Court's decision this supple ment of lies, with which your section is about to be flooded, is an unlawful publication which no one would dare to circulate here. Let the Democratic managers in New York, October 31st.- The following letter from Sena or George M. Edmunds to Charles A. Dana is published in the New York Sun. The letter, which explains itself, is given in full issues of the campaign, now grasp at this their desperation, after being ignomini disgraceful and abortive means of retain-Mashington, October 30, 1888.

Dear Mr. Dana: I observe in the Sun of the 28th a statement with conspicuous headlines to the effect that I am not taking a speech-making part in the present campaign, and that attention has been called to the fact. The matter is so stated as to permit the interence that I am not earnestly interested in the election of General Harrison. I beg you, as a fair-minded lover of fair play and the editor of the principal really Democratic newspaper in the country, to allow me to repel, through your columns, any such imputations. I am and have been ever since the nomination of General Harrison most earnestly and according to my strength and capacity actively in favor of his election.

First—Because I personally know him to be of great abilities, of pure and upright life, and most vigorous and aggressive uprightness and independence, both as a man and as a Republican, and I therefore believe he will administer the Government in the full vigor of the principles of the Republican party.

Second—He was a gailant soldier, his sword flashing in the front of battle, and in the gloomy rear of retreat was heard his voice of ing their ill-gotten power. the strike, but libelously conceals the fact, well known in Indiana, that General Harrison, with all others, simply assigned over to the Light Infantry of this city his claim upon the State, and that the money was collected and used by the Light Infan'ry, not a dollar of it ever reaching General Harrison's hands. Finally it contains an incomplete and misleading account of General Harrison's record and votes on the Chinese question.

Numerous other falsehoods touching General Harrison are catalogued in this sheet, constituting it the most extraordinary chapter of lies ever attempted to be inflicted upon a tolerant public.

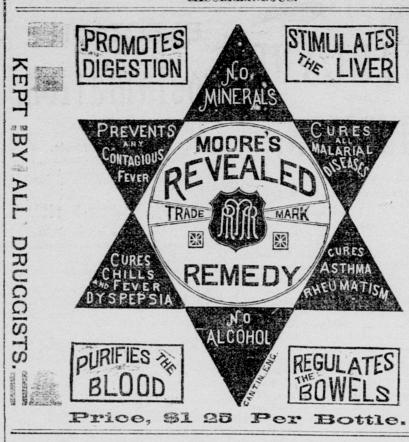

J. N. HUSTON, Chairman Indiana Republican State Central Committee.

Does a Tariff Affect Wages. [General Harrison in a Recent Speech.] It is said by some of our opponents that a protective tariff has no influence upon wages; that labor in the United States has nothing to fear from the competition from pauper labor; that in the contest between pauper labor and high-priced labor, pauper abor was always driven out. Do such statements as these fall in line with the experience of those workingmen who are to be reformed? If that is true, then why the legislative precaution we have wisely taken against the coming of pauper labor to our shores? It is because you know, every one of you, that in a contest between two rival establishments here, or between two rival countries, that the shop or the country that pays the lower wages and so produces more cheaply, can command the market. If the products of foreign mills that pay low wages are admitted here without discriminating duties, you know there is onl; one way to meet such competition, and that is by reducing wages in our mills. They seek to entice you by the suggestion that you can wear cheaper clothes when free access is given to the products of foreign woolen mills. And yet they mention also that now in some of our cities the men, and especially the women, who are manufacturing the garments we wear, are not getting adequate wages, and country that pays the lower wages and so wear, are not getting adequate wages, and that among some of them there is suffer-Do they hope that when the coat is made cheaper the wages of the man or woman who makes it will be increased?

The power of your labor organizations to secure increased wages is greatest when there is a large demand for the product London Standard, that Cleveland's "bark man of arms-bearing age in every three.— or last year, then he may successfully rewill prove worse than his bite."

PRUNING TIME. Effects of Too Early Pruning on Trees

and Vines. Injudicious and unseasonable pruning is doubt, in many instances, responsible for the sudden dying out of fruit trees and vines without any apparent cause. Some varieties of trees stand pruning much better than others, and while certain kinds seem even to demand pruning, others, again, are most impatient of the pruner's knife and shears. The effect of pruning while the tree or plant is growing is to diminish the outlet for the flowing sap, and thus check or entirely stop the flow of the same. If this check is sudden the tree or vine may be seriously injured, or even killed outright or soon after. The dying out of so many of the principal vineyards in Southern California is now attributed to this injudicious and untimely pruning. Until a few years ago Anaheim, Santa Ana and San Gabriel valley were famous for their vineyards. To-day they are mostly dead or dying, and even the closest investigations by experts have failed to reveal any tungi or destructive insect parasites to which the blame could be laid. The only reasonable cause that could be suggested was early and untimely

In Anaheim where frost is late and rare, it was found very convenient to prune the vineyards as soon as all the grapes were gathered, in October or early part of November. At that time the vines are yet all growing and in full leaf. For a year or two the only effect was to delay the starting of those vines in the following spring. The early pruned vineyards were the last to bud out. A year later it was found that vines thus treated put out their leaves as usual, late, flowered and set berries even, but then all of a sudden died. It was not known, however, what was the cause of the trouble, and the early pruning was kept on. To-day the fine vineyards of those districts are a thing of the past, and viticulture in no form is now practiced in the injured districts. This year's very unusual and early season will enable the vine-yardists around Fresno to finish the labor of drying and packing long before the frost will have killed the leaves of the vines, and to save time and to enable them to keep their laborers employed some may be induced to begin the pruning of the vines as soon as the picking season is over. The effect of such early pruning would no doubt be the same here as in Southern California, and certainly cause serious in- L. B. Mizner, S. M. Shortridge. jury or destruction to the vines. It is George A. Knight, H. M. Streeter, much safer to delay pruning until the John F. Swift, W. H. L. Barnes. frost has killed the leaves, or, at least, until the season has caused the wood of the vines to fully mature, and all or most all of the flow of sap been checked naturally

But it is not necessary to go to Southern California to study the effect of untimely Laws R. Leach, C. Dunker, pruning. Most of us remember a few years ago, when the grasshoppers were plentiful in the outlying districts and on the foothills, how many trees were injured and already killed by the insects devastating their foliage. We saw ten-year-old fruit trees entirely stripped of every leaf, while again it had the effect of checking the flow or outlet for the sap. The latter soured before it could be absorbed by the tree or otherwise disposed of, and the trees died. We see nearly every day rose bushes which are totally or partially dead or dying. Their stems show an unusually green color, and in some places or on one side black and dead. By cutting into the wood we can smell a sour substance—the soured sap of the bush. We find that such rose bushes have nearly all been summerpruned, after the first period of blooming is over, and the sap, which was deprived of its outlet, soured and ruined the plant. The time when all pruning should be done is when the plant is dormant in the winter. We should wait until such a time to prune our vineyards; if we do it before our vines will surely be injured.—Fresno

POWDERLY A PROTECTIONIST.

I am a high tariff man and a protectionist, for the reason that I am an American and a friend of American labor. No workingman has ever called for reduction, and no reduction should be made until called for by the people. We need no tariff tinkering. We want protection from one end of the country to the other. Touch not the tariff. Raise the duties so high that not a single article of foreign maufacture can come into the country.—T. V. Powderly.

Fruits and Vines in Egypt. While the cultivation of fruits and vines does not constitute one of the most im portant agricultural industries of Egypt, it is interesting to consider it. In Lower Egypt are produced oranges and lemons of all varieties. Peaches and pomegranates are also produced, and near Alexandria figs and grapes. Dates are not largely grown in the Delta, except in the provinces of Charkieh and Gharbieh, where there are some very good plantations. In Upper Egypt fruit production is largest. In the Fayoum it is the most diversified as In the Fayoum it is the most diversified as well as most extensive. There grow in perfection figs, pomegranates, apples, pears, grapes, apricots, plums and olives. About Cairo, too, are grown with much perfection all the fruits named, as well as quantities of bananas. Olives are grown, besides in the Fayoum, in the province of Minieh and about Cairo. Grapes are produced in nearly every province, but the most important vineyards are found in the Fayoum, where the product is of a most superior

Of fruit trees, the date of commerce is the most important in number, super-fiscial area and production. In the Delta and valley of the Nile, there are, from the seaboard to Assonau, over 5,000,000 date trees, 3,500,000 of which bear seed and fruit. In the oasis there are about 300,000. Charkieh and Sharbieh in Lower Egypt, and Guirgeh, Guirzeh and Assiut in Upper Egypt, are the provinces in which they are mainly grown. Altogether they occupy a superficial area of 40,000 feddans. [One feddan is 1.20 acres.]

Of oranges, lemons, citrons, pomegranates, figs, peaches, apples, etc., there are said to be over 1,500,000 trees, occupying a superficial area of about 9,000 feddans. Outside of this estimate there exists a great variety of edible fruits, such as bananas, barbarian figs, medlars, mangoes, plums, apricots, mulberries, etc., of which it is impossible to make even an approxiestimate as to number-Cal-

A HAVERLY VICTORY.

The G. & M.'s Drop Another Peg in the Morans. The G. & M.'s had the game dence of Mr. Shippee, where he was tendered a serenade by the band. Mayor Shippee, in acknowledging the compliment, said:

"Fellow-citizens of Sacramento: We welallowed not a single base to be stolen by the Greenhoods. Lawton caught a hot liner at the end of the game from Har-die's bat, and pocketed the ball.

For the G. & M.'s Shaeffer, Hardie, McDonald and Cahill played the best ball. Hardie accepted three fly balls without a miss, and made a two-base hit, while Cahill came in handily with a single. Mc Donald caught a splendid game and the two passed balls which are against him were really wild pitches. Shaeffer was always ready for everything that came around second base, but he made one bad throw to the plate which let in a run. Lange on third base made as neat a stop of t hand after a hard run and succeeded in tality of the citizens of Stockton. shutting off the runner at first base. This play was heartily applauded. Coughlin did not pitch his usual game and was somewhat weak with the "ash." Ryan had an off day on first base, and allowed three balls to pop out of his hands. The game, taken all in all, was a fair one, and those who attended were satisfied.

They have even gone so far as to seek the removal of Prison Directors to stop such employment. How then can any member of these labor organizations vote for Cleveland, after the recent purchase by the Administration, and with Cleveland's sanction and approval, of 1,400 army wagons from a Tennessee contractor, who made the wagons with State convicts, hired at 25 cents per day? There is no denial of this fact. There can be none. Cleveland does not even seek to explain it, but with cold silence as good as says to the workingmen of the country: "Yes, I strongly. GOT RICH AT IT. Death of a Wealthy Cannery Merchant at Baltimore. BALTIMORE, November 4th .- I ouis Mo Murray, the noted fruit and oy ster packer, died at midnight at his country home near Frederick from a stroke of apoplexy. In 1851 he began in a small way packing her-metically sealed goods. On the breaking out of the war, which shut off the South ern and Southwestern trade, he devoted his attention to the foreign and California markets. He sent heavy cargoes of sealed goods to Europe and around Cape Horn to California. After the war he found his pusiness so much increased that he was compelled to extend his facilities. He leaves a large fortune.

P HILADESPEIA, November 4th .- A special to the Press from Williamsport says: The ru mored direct cause of the explosion was the inexperienced use of dynamite. In conversation with one of the drivers who escaped it is learned that an Italian had gotten 100 sticks of dynamite from the storekeeper in the morning, and had also gotten 100 caps, and had returned after the fuse, but as there was none in stock, it is supposed he tried to set it off in some other way, thus causing an explosion.

TERRIBLE SCENES. In the blacksmith shop near the scene of the disaster lies the charred and unrecognizable remains of August Pierson, who was blown out through the air-shaft, fifty feet in the air, and some of his clothes can be seen banging to the limb of a large tree

Next to him was Mike Curren, who was blown 200 feet out of the mouth of the mine, and was found dead in a ditch, still clinging to the bandle of his shovel. He a wife and seven small children. Beside him lay P. F. Donnelly, who was also blown out of the mouth of the mine. $1,000 reward to any person who ca Donnelly leaves a wife and four children.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY. John Farrell, a mule-driver, tells this tory: "I was beside and pushing a car, and in sticking up my head, saw a flash. I immediately dropped to the ground, moving as quickly as possible toward the th of the drift, and escaped unhurt. My mule and a Swedish miner alongsid of the animal were killed instantly. Assailing the Character of the Republican Lady Candidates. The lady nominees for School Directors and the ladies supporting them are ex-periencing some mud-throwing that is being done in a very quiet way. A limited number of circulars have been issued by some unknown person or persons, containing an attack on the characters of the lady candidates. The charges are virtually a stab in the back at the women.

It is a small circular letter, but where it came from is a mystery, and even those persons said to have copies of it in their possession are not making the matter very public. Their tactics are said to be to meet their gentlemen friends very quietly and read the letter to them. They have no copies for distribution, and will not let the ones they have go out of their possession. People who have seen copies of the letter in the hands of some one person and heard it read have informed representatives of this paper of the fact.—S. F. Examirer,

MUST SAY SOMETHING. English Papers Still Discussing the Sackville Matter. The Pope has named December 31st for special thanksgiving services in the Catholic churches throughout the world for grace during the year of the Papal Jubilee.

The marriage of Prince Alexander, of Phelps, and advises the Government to Phelps are provided to the Sackville matter, and the Sackvi ence to Englishmen, but that March next will be fully time enough to appoint a successor to Lord Sackville. The Standard continues to cry for something to indicate England's displeasure. Cleveland, the Veto Governor. Governor Cleveland gained the support of the New York capitalists and monopolists while he was Governor of that State. The body of a tramp was found buried He vetoed every bill the Legislature passed that was designed to improve the condition of the laboring classes:

1. He vetoed the bill establishing a De-2. He vetoed the mechanics' lien law Mrs. R. D. Butler has been appointed bill, making the wages of the workingmen Deputy School Superintendent of San engaged in the construction of buildings a first mortgage on the property.

3. He vetoed the life and limb bill, making employers responsible for accidents happening from imperfect machinery or imperfectly constructed buildings. 4. He vetoed the tenement house cigar bill, forbidding the manufacture of cigars 5. He vetoed the bill compelling the elevated railroads of New York City to

6. He vetoed the printers' bill, requiring all the State printing to be done by union workmen. 7. He vetoed the bill making ten hours a legal day's work for street-car employes. 8. He vetoed the bill abolishing convict labor in prisons, although this proposition, when submitted to the popular vote of the people, was carried by a majority vote of 9. He vetoed the child's labor bill, providing for the inspection of factories where children were employed, and prohibiting the employment of children under 14 years
